Breathitt fraud case

Two Breathitt vote buyers convicted

A federal jury in Lexington last week convicted two Breathitt Countians for buying votes in the May 2010 primary election.

Naomi Johnson, 61, and Earl Young, 44, were convicted of conspiring to buy votes, and one count each of vote buying. The verdict was returned following two and a half days of trial and approximately three and a half hours of deliberation.

Another co-defendant, Jackie Jennings, 61, pleaded guilty to two counts of vote buying and a conspiracy charge during the first day of the trial.

Evidence at trial proved that the three defendants conspired to buy votes for Michael Salyers, a candidate for county magistrate.

Testimony proved that Salyers was provided hundreds of dollars to pay individuals to cast their votes for him by absentee ballot. Evidence showed that the defendants traveled with voters to the courthouse. Young and Jennings verified that the voters voted. Voters were paid after informing Salyers they voted for him. One witness testified that he was paid $25.

Salyers pleaded guilty to the vote buying conspiracy in February.

Jennings, Johnson and Young will appear in federal court for their sentences on July 26. Salyers will be sentenced on May 23. Each defendant faces up to five years in prison.

The investigation was conducted by the FBI.

Manchester man faces charges in Owsley County

Jessie C. Bowling, 20 of Manchester, was arrested in Owsley County Sunday, and charged with numerous violations including fighting with a police officer.

According to Kentucky State Police, the Richmond Post received a complaint Sunday morning about a domestic violence assault on Tommy Calahan Road.

Trooper Jarrod Smith was dispatched to the scene, and attempted to make contact with Bowling.

Police said that before Trooper Smith arrived, Bowling allegedly used his vehicle to damage another one parked at the residence.

Smith found Bowling in the woods near the area of the initial complaint. He was "apprehended after a physical altercation with Trooper Smith," police said.

Trooper Josh Wilson, from the London Post, assisted Smith.

Bowling was lodged in the Three Forks Regional Jail in Beattyville charged with assault in the third degree (police officer), fleeing or evading in the first degree, criminal mischief in the first degree, operating a motor vehicle under the influence of drugs/alcohol fourth offense, resisting arrest, menacing, no operator's license, failure to register motor vehicle, and giving false name or address to police officer.

Trooper Smith received minor injuries from the altercation, and was treated and released from the Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Owsley drug case

White's attorney wants continuance

The attorney for John W. White, a defendant in the original Owsley drug conspiracy case, has asked that his client's rearraignment be reset.

Rachel D. Yavelak of Lexington said in her motion that White is to enter a plea on June 13 in London at 11 a. m. However, she (the attorney) must be in Lexington at 1 p. m. for a sentencing in federal court.

No decision had been made by the court on the motion as of press time.

WOMEN'S HEALTHCARE CLINIC

Ted's Frankfort Report

By Rep. Teddy Edmonds

Last-minute bills were printed, passed and enrolled into the evening Thursday as the Kentucky General Assembly bid adieu to its 2012 Regular Session after passing final legislation on the 60th and last legislative day.

Those include a bill that will create a state income tax check-off for contributions to local food banks, legislation to improve oral health care for nursing home residents in collaboration with the UK and UL schools of dentistry, and a resolution to create a task force to study Kentucky's public pension funds.

We also gave final approval to a rural investment bill that will allow for the creation of so-called "new generation cooperatives", designed to bring new investors to the state's agriculture, energy and other industries. The legislation, found in HB 441, is based on a model law now in place in Tennessee and nearly a dozen other states that allows such cooperatives to have investors rather than only patrons, its supporters explained.

The House and Senate had worked behind the scenes since the veto recess began March 30 to reach agreement on the two-year blueprint for state roads and bridges, but striking a deal was difficult (at best) since both chambers and most members had competing ideas about which of the literally hundreds of worthy road projects should be included.

When the impasse on the Road Plan, found in House Bill 267, and House Joint Resolution 77—a piece of legislation that lists state and federal road projects for the last four "out years" of the overall projected six-year plan — was broken late Thursday, we lawmakers were relieved and satisfied we had met our duty to provide for the Commonwealth's transportation needs until our next budget session in 2014.

The two-year Road Plan passed both chambers and was sent to the governor to be signed into law Thursday afternoon, along with the list of future projects in the six-year plan. But our work on making that Road Plan a reality was not finished.

As the plans were being signed and delivered to the governor's office, a group of lawmakers continued meeting on a Transportation Cabinet operating budget that would actually pay for the projects in the two-year Road Plan. That budget, found in HB 266, was dissected and debated until late into the night. But in the end, the bill never made it back to House for final passage.

The result of the impasse is undesirable, but necessary: We lawmakers have been called by the governor into an extraordinary "special" session, beginning at noon on Monday, to approve a Transportation Cabinet budget. The Commonwealth must have a two-year Road Plan and a way to fund the projects found therein.

Also unresolved when the final gavel fell just before midnight on Thursday was a prescription drug bill. It will also be tackled in the special session.

Thousands of Kentuckians and their families are devastated by the scourge of pain pill addiction each year. So-called 'pill mills,' the shady pain-management 'clinics' known for providing a seemingly endless supply of potent narcotics to virtually anyone who asks as long as they'll pay, are fueling the devastation. It's obvious that legislation to regulate those facilities and monitor the prescription and distribution of narcotics is needed as quickly as possible.

Granted, we lawmakers would rather finish all our work in regular session than come back to Frankfort. But the legislative process doesn't always unfold neatly. Sometimes, it is more like a crumpled ball of paper that is unwadded and pressed out dozens of times by hand but never quite wrinkle-free. Imperfect, but usable.

We will, without a doubt, use the work that we did on HB 266 and HB 4 in special session. Doing so will ensure that our work on the bill in regular session is not for naught, and that the special session is concluded quickly.

The end of the 2012 Regular Session, therefore, is a reason for celebration, reflection and preparation for what lies ahead. We accomplished most everything we set out to do, and we will finish what is left to be done in what we hope will be a short special session. As always, I will keep you informed of what happens at the Capitol every step of the way. And you can always leave a message for me on the toll-free Legislative Message Line at 800-372-7181, or call me directly at 502-564-8100, x. 818.

Dear Editor

St. Helens Cemetery

Unfortunately, we have a politician and/or his family in law who, on February 4th, violated our scared grounds for their political and /or personal purposes, by digging an unauthorized grave in an unauthorized area. Neither perpetrator has ever lived in the St. Helens community and both have family and/or community cemeteries elsewhere. This is the third occasion of their exploitative behavior since 10/18/2007.

Beginning in the early 90's, I never dug 7 stumps out of this area by hand and kept it in pristine condition since then, so that these outsiders could exploit the area and interfere with my caretaking.

It would behoove all those who contribute and appreciate the improvements I've made, to inform these two to stop interfering, so as to avoid further sizable cuts in my many hours of donated labor toward overall maintenance. I'm suspending the maintenance of the back section until further notice. More interference means more cuts; however, contributor's family graves will always be maintained. Further action is pending. Jerry Griffin

To help or not help, that is the question!!!!

What do you want to be known for in you community?

This will be an opportunity for local folks to volunteer to help their neighbors, family, and friends. Come out on Saturday, April 28, 2012 to assist the Lee County Fiscal Court, the City of Beattyville, Beattyville Housing and Development Corporation, Inc. staff and board, and local volunteers and Church groups, start working to finish the emergency shelter. It will be a day of hard work, fun, and community service. We will start around 9:00 a.m. and work until at least 4:00 p.m. We hope to see you at this event. Will you help?

I'm Alive...

Knocking Monkeys

By Chuck Caudill Jr

I spent the last three days in a seminar at Berea to learn an exercise program which is designed to challenge athletes and still be enjoyable and beneficial to young children and the elderly. It isn't a new program. It's actually been around since the late 70s and early 80s.

What was so impressive to me was how my perception of physical fitness was altered. I learned the routines (which weren't that challenging in terms of being overly taxing nor did I break a sweat the entire time I was working out), performed them for 2.5 days under careful instruction and had the opportunity to see a demonstration of a work out session performed by a couple in their seventies, a couple in their 60s and a woman who was 84. Just so you know, these folks did routines in chairs, standing up and laying down on the floor. They all (including the fellahs who were both packing quite a bit of extra weight) were able to move from the chair to the floor to standing without assistance or pain.

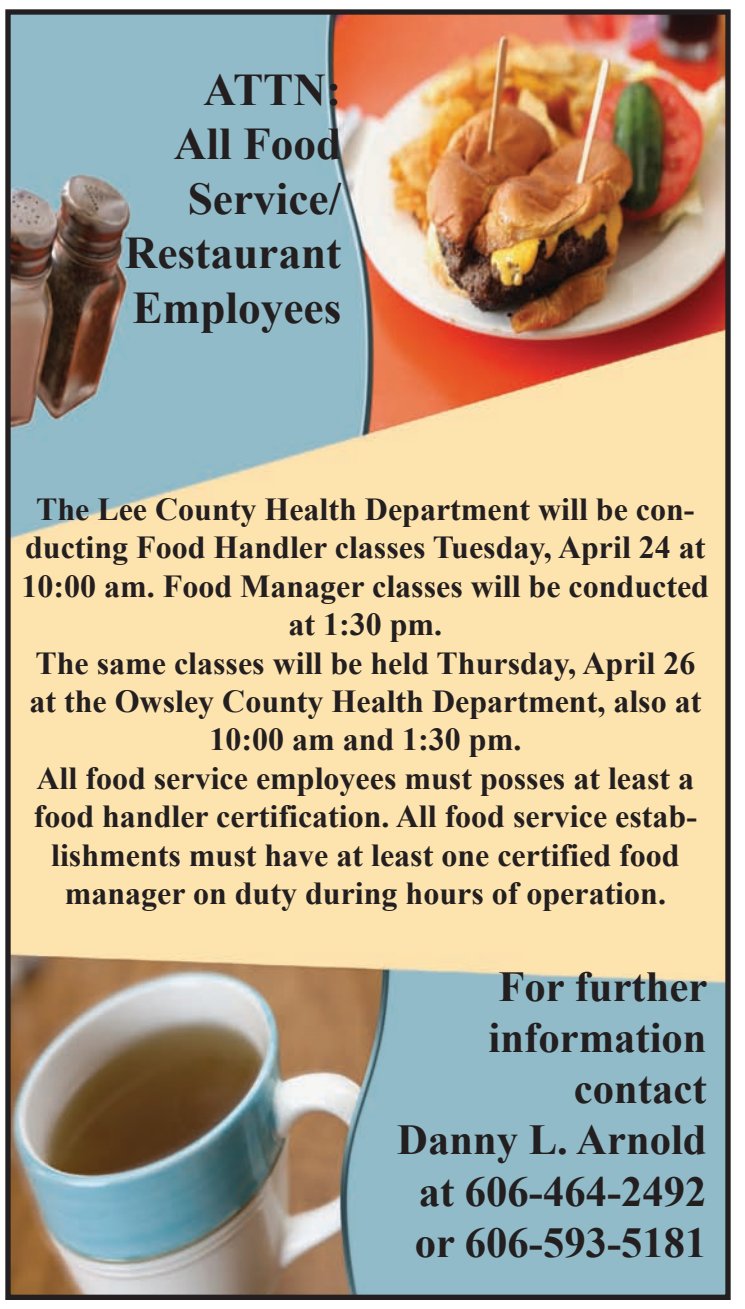

Talking to these folks afterwards, I learned one couple were local farmers who knew everything about farming (I know more about sweet corn varieties and planting times than I ever wanted to)who had moved from Perry County to Madison County and started farming with a garden plot provided by Berea College decades ago. The other couple retired from Square D and the 84 year old woman (in her own words, which I believed), who was in "perfect shape", lived on a farm. I also learned this program helped them reduce their weight, decreased their medication and generally improved the quality of their lives by increasing their range of motion, energy, mental focus, balance and strength. The gentleman farmer said it was a lot easier hoofing it to the house when he got his lawn mower stuck to get the tractor to pull himself out.

The point is, these folks weren't exercise people. They were the salt of the earth types who get up every day and still want to get things done even though they were dealing with age and health issues. And they found this program which keeps them motivated and exercising without hurting their muscles, breaking a sweat, or making them breath hard.

Before Friday, I wouldn't have said this was an exercise program, but after attending and seeing the results, I've changed my mind. You can get "Gain without the Pain". And just so you know, I enjoyed the workout and felt benefits even though I wasn't lifting weights or body taxing calisthenics.

With statistics which put Kentuckians in the worse states for diabetes, sedentary lifestyles, obesity, and heart conditions, doesn't it make sense to learn more about what it means to develop a personal program which helps you stay healthy for a life time?

Of course, my perception of what constitutes a work out being changed made me think about how others might have their perceptions changed regarding other problems in the community like limited jobs, the drug problem, declining population, developing strategic plans, limited economic opportunities, etc…. I ask you to get involved with local groups like the Chamber of Commerce to learn more about what's going on and see if your perception is changed. Send comments to chuck102001@aol.com.

The farmer and God

God is thankful for the farmer (as so are we) and the farmer is thankful for God, a good team. And so it is farm time again, and what great inspiration and lessons we learn from the God provided soil full of rich materials and 'life' giving produce. Won't find this life giving soil on mars, moon, etc. – not hard for me to figure that out, God provides the materials and man provides the labor.

It goes that the communist planted two gardens, and let one go to weeds. Said, to their youth, look how God takes care of his garden. An obvious attempt to undermine God.

America is the bread basket of the world. Thank God for those that will 'work' with God to produce.

Also thank God for the timely machinery to help at harvest time. If up to man's bare hands the job now would come up way short. God does provide. "Give us this day our daily bread."

Hello again from Zoe, Zachariah and Leeco. We pray that everyone who reads this are saved and well. We had Cindy Feller, representing the Cumberland Mountain Outreach Ministries Inc... Cindy her fellow workers (volunteries) to help the Ministry that God called her to do. They have clothes that are very cheap, food that churches and others help them with. Rose works in the clothing store, she is 80 years old. So if you and others could donate your clothes. They gave away turkeys during Thanksgiving; they do so much to help others. When their work crews are there, they build porch's and put floors for people that need them. They have built homes for people that abide by their rules. Cindy's been here in this area for 10 years now; she knows the people and she loves them. So if can help this ministry please do so. Cindy can be reached by email at Fellers@bellsouth.net, or call 606-464-8134, Cell 606-599-7629, her address CMO, 102 E. 3rd St. Beattyville KY 41311 . Cindy showed us a slide about some families that need help and got it at her ministry. God bless the Cumberland Mountain Outreach and God bless Cindy and all the workers.

Bro.Don was speaking to a church in TN. on their 100th Homecoming. He & wife Pastored there for several years. We missed him a lot and prayed for him. Nice to see Debbie Vanderpool, please pray for Debbie and her family. Pray for the unsaved, sick, bereaved, and that are in prison and in jails, our country, and for our military. Read II Chronicles 7:14 and Psalm 91. Somebody did a golden deed; Somebody proved a friend in need; Somebody sang a beautiful song; Somebody smiled the whole day long; "Was that someday" you?

Seeds From the Sower –
By Michael A. Guido –

Swimming beyond his depth, Benjamin Franklin was seized with a cramp. A stranger rescued him. Franklin paid him well. But for many years, the man reminded Franklin of his debt, and the statesman never failed to pay him. After twenty years, the rescuer died. Weeks later, his widow reminded Franklin she expected the payments to continue. Talking to a friend, Franklin said, "I thought I was worth saving, but I didn't know I didn't know I was worth that much" You're worth saving, and God paid a paralyzing price. The Living Bible says, "He paid for you with the precious lifeblood of Christ."

May God be with you until we meet again? I love you more but Jesus loves you the best. Alice

A different view

By Betty Crabtree

Words. Words paint mental pictures or images in our minds.

Do you agree with this statement? "If you can imagine or envision something, it is possible." If it were not possible then there would be no airplanes, no trains, no cars, no different styles of houses, no asphalt or concrete highways, no new discoveries in medicine, no different styles of clothing, and on and on I could go. All these things are conceived in the mind, to have a notion or idea.

Thomas Edison envisioned or imagined the electric light bulb. After several thousand attempts he succeeded in developing the incandescent bulb.

There are always "nay-sayers" that say you can't do something; people who use words to say it's not possible. The words we use impact not only other peoples lives but our own as well.

There are some verses in chapter 4 of Proverbs, (The Message), that says this, "Dear friend, listen well to my words....keep my message in plain view at all times. Concentrate! Learn it by heart! Those who discover these words live, really live; body and soul, they're bursting with health. Keep vigilant watch over your heart; that's where life starts. Luke 6:45c... for of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." Matthew 15:18a, "but whatever comes out of the mouth comes from the heart"...Jesus said in Matthew, "Blessed are the pure in heart." (The pure heart governs what comes out of the mouth) Proverbs says "as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he"...How do you think? What come out of your mouth?

Jesus said in John 6:63a, "The words that I have been speaking to you are spirit and life." Proverbs 4:10 in The Message says, "Hold tight to good advice; don't relax you grip. Guard it well___your life is at stake!" Proverbs 10:11a (Msg.) "The mouth of a good person is a deep, life giving well...verse 13a, "You'll find wisdom on the lips of a person of insight."

So how do you picture yourself? Wise, with a listening ear to that which is good and upright?

Psalms 19:14 (KJV) "Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in your sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer."

The Word

By Gerline McIntosh

Hello to every reader that reads this column. I want to write about what the Bible says about the Word, this week. Hope everyone is enjoying this beautiful weather that we are having.

Psalm 119:89,103,105,133,169

(89)Forever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven.

(103)How sweet are thy words unto my taste! Yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth.

(105)Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

(133)Order my steps in thy word; and let not any iniquity have dominion over me.

(169)Let my cry come near before thee, Lord, give me understanding according to thy word.

Psalm 121:2

(2)My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

Psalm 130:5I wait for the Lord, my soul doeth wait, and in his word do I hope. Our only hope is in the Lord, and all of his promises that he has made us in his word. His word is true, God cannot lie.

John 17:17

(17)Sanctify them through thy truth; thy word is truth.

Matthew 24:35

(35)Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass away.

John 6:68

(68)Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life.

Colossians 3:16,17

(16)Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

(17)And whatever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

Colossians 3:25

(25)But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done; and there is no respect of persons.

God speaks the word in the Bible about doing good and we will receive a reward up in heaven for our good deeds.

He also tells us if we do bad things on earth, we will also receive a reward for our bad deeds a place inn the flames of hell for eternity. It is our choice to make, Jesus came that we could have life with him in heaven for eternity, this is the word of God.

Hebrews 6:16-19

(16)For men verily, swear by the greater, and an oath for conformation is to them and end of all strife.

(17)Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath.

(18)That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us.

(19)Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil.

II Thessalonians 4:7,15-18

(7)For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.

(15)For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

(16)For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the Archangel, and with the Trump of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

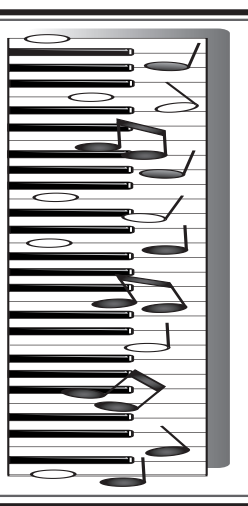

(17)Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

(18)Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

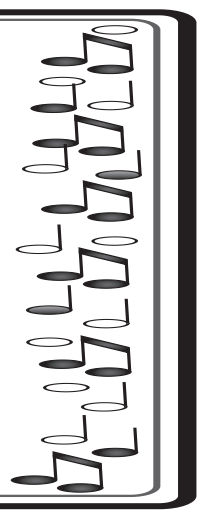

These are the words of God, that we will be with him in heaven forever if we live the right life here on earth.

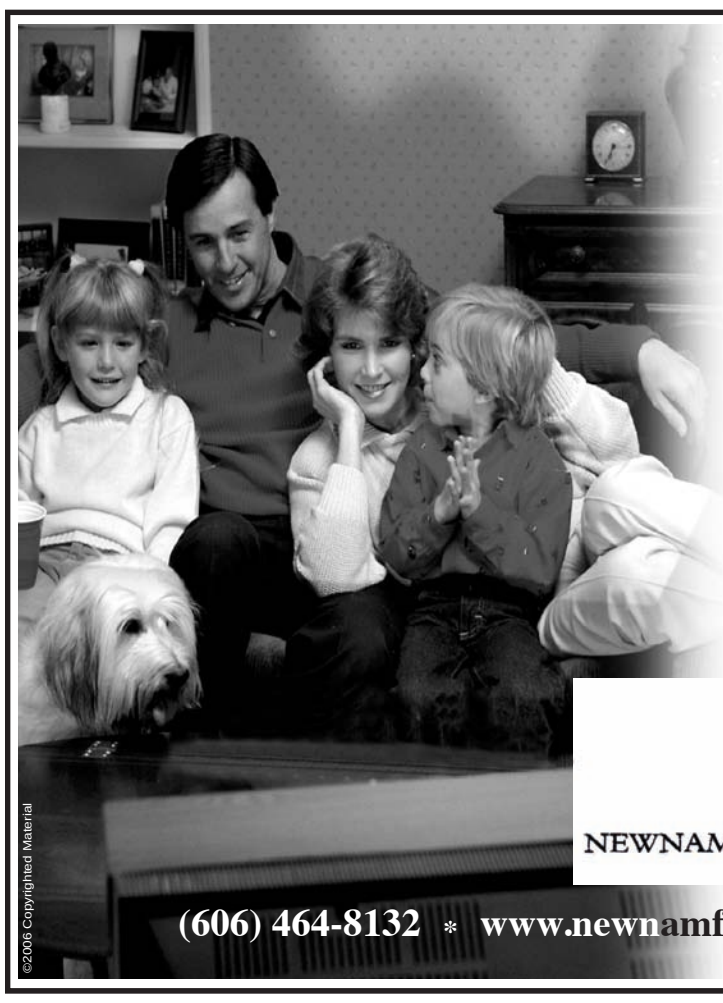

So we must live by the words of God if we want to go to heaven.

May God bless until next week.

Head Start has PRIDE

The children at Lee County Head Start participated in Pride Clean-up last week. We went outside and cleaned our playground and learned how important it is to take care of our communities by recycling and not littering. It's so important to teach our children to take care of the environment in which we live.

Thank You

The Lee County Head Start would like to thank the following people and business for their contributions that made our fundraiser a big success; Dunahoo Furniture, Beattyville Florist, Isaacs Party Time, Save-A-Lot, Lee County Judge Steve Mays and the Fiscal Court. We appreciate your generosity and thoughtfulness. The money we raised will be used to buy materials and school supplies for our classrooms.

Views of Lee's yesteryear

This first school in northeastern Lee County was this more than a hundred-year-old building that then in later years served as a barn. The first school taught here was a "blab school" were "scholars" studied their lesson out loud.

The first annual Kaydee's Kitchen Event for a Cause was a success thanks to a bunch of motivated participants and generous corporate and individual sponsors. Hats off to Brenda Begley, Adam and Alan Begley, John Paul Duddy, Lisa Fox Moore, Vivian Ferguson, Roger Stamper, Michelle Coomer, Joy Frye, Pattie Noe, Sheila Dunlap, Sandra Schmitt, Billy Lunsford, and Robert Goe for hosting, setting up, breaking down, retrieving items donated to the auction, and manning the auction. Thank you to Baylee and Kaye Lotz and friend Barb for hanging flyers. Special thanks to all individuals who gave cash donations, auction items, and attended the event! We are grateful to both Beattyville Enterprise and Three Forks for running the ads at no cost. THAN YOU to corporate sponsors for contributing cash to pay the band scheduled for the evening. The band was replaced with local DJ, Jolene Coomer, and local singer/musician James Moore. The corporate sposors of $50 or more were Lago Linda Resort, Stamper Construction, Early Childhood Development, Treasure Trove, Betty Barrett, Caudill Construction, Crossroads Cash Advance, Fabulous Nails (Corbin, KY) Debbie McIntosh of Life Long Occupational Therapy, Rhonda Durbin's Speech Therapy for Babies, and Joe's Meat Market.

Eye to Eye

with David Blandford, M.D.

WOMEN'S EYE HEALTH

Because women typically live longer than men, they are at greater risk for developing vision-inhibiting conditions and diseases such as cataracts and macular degeneration. Thus, they have a particular incentive to have their eyes comprehensively examined, especially as they get older. In addition, there are a number of autoimmune diseases (including rheumatoid arthritis, Sjogren's Syndrome, systemic lupus erythematosus, and multiple sclerosis) that are linked with serious eye complications. Most autoimmune diseases are more prevalent among women, especially Sjogren's Syndrome (90% of patients are women). You may recall that tennis great Venus Williams recently revealed that she suffered from the disorder, which produces symptoms of dry eye. Women have more reasons than they realize to have their eyes checked regularly.

We recommend preventive vision health care for all ages and gender. At KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE, our entire staff strives to provide the optimal eye care. Our family oriented practice encourages comprehensive, complete care with emphasis on prevention through early detection. We support the whole health of the individual by providing preventive, curative and restorative health services from an ophthalmology perspective in a patient and employee friendly environment. Please call 606-666-9393 to schedule an appointment. We have the confidence and skills to give you the care you deserve. We're located at 540 Jett Drive. We specialize in "EYE CARE FOR ALL AGES."

P.S. Double vision, eye discomfort, uncontrollable rapid eye movements, and vision loss (usually one eye at a time) are among the symptoms of multiple sclerosis, which affects more women than men.
